

Douglas J. Adams

djadams@uark.edu • (479) 575-7440

Research Biography

Kenneth D. Pimple and Douglas Adams presented “A better mousetrap: Lessons learned from the U.S. approach to research integrity and suggested new directions.” 3rd World Conference on Research Integrity: Montreal, Canada May 5-8, 2013

On April 4, 2013, Douglas Adams presented Criminology, Sociology and the Responsible Conduct of Research in a Plenary Session of the ORI@20: Reassessing Research Integrity Leadership Conference, organized by the Office of Research Integrity (ORI) and co-sponsored with John Hopkins University School of Medicine.

In 2012, Dr. Adams’ article, The Issues and Challenges of Research Ethics Education in the University, Particularly in the Area of the Social Sciences, was published in the Spring 2012 issue of Teaching Ethics, volume 12 (2).

Douglas Adams and Kenneth D. Pimple presented “Lemons to Lemonade: Opportunities in the Analysis of Research Misconduct as Crimes of Specialized Access” at the annual meeting of the American Society of Criminology (ASC), in Chicago, IL, November 15-17, 2012;

Kenneth D. Pimple and Douglas Adams presented “A Situational Approach to Research Integrity” at the Quest for Research Excellence conference, sponsored by the Office of Research Integrity (ORI), in Washington DC, March 15-16, 2012;

Douglas Adams and Kenneth D. Pimple presented “Research Misconduct as Crime (and Why it Matters)” at the annual meeting of the Association of Practical and Professional Ethics (APPE), in Cincinnati, OH, March 1-3, 2012.

And in 2012, Kenneth D. Pimple and Douglas Adams submitted “ Research Integrity-Lessons from Criminology” in response to a Request for Information: Suggested Research Topics for Future Initiatives for the Research on Research Integrity Program. Notice Number: NOT-ES-12-004 announced by the National Institute of Environmental Health Sciences, National Institutes of Health, and the Office of Research Integrity.

In 2011, Douglas Adams presented “The Issues and Challenges of Research Ethics Education in the University, Particularly in the Area of the Social Sciences” at the annual meeting of the Association of Practical and Professional Ethics (APPE), in Cincinnati, OH, March 3-6, 2011

Dr. Adams was also an Invited Panel Member for the Session: Author Meets Critic: “Ethical Imperial: Institutional Review Boards and the Social Sciences, 1965-2009” by Zachery Schrag at the annual meeting of the Association of Practical and Professional Ethics (APPE), in Cincinnati, OH, March 3-6, 2011

Douglas J. Adams

djadams@uark.edu • (479) 575-7440

In 2009, Douglas Adams and Kenneth D. Pimple presented “Research Misconduct and Social Control” at the ORI Research on Research Integrity conference, in Buffalo, NY, May 15 - 17, 2009

In addition, Dr. Adams’ Commentary entitled A View on Promoting Research Integrity: Attention to Deterrence was featured in the March 2009 ORI Newsletter, volume 17 (2), of the Office of Research Integrity (ORI).

In 2008, Kenneth D. Pimple and Douglas Adams presented the paper “Resisting the Sirens Call for Behavior Change” at the Responsible Conduct of Research Education, Training, and Instruction (RCR-EIT) conference, sponsored by the Office of Research Integrity (ORI), in St Louis, MO, April 17-19, 2008.

In 2007, Dr. Adams delivered the Keynote Speech at the Fred Hutchinson Cancer Research Center’s Bioethics Colloquium in Seattle, Washington. His talk was entitled Research Misconduct: Determinants and Deterrence.

In 2006, Douglas Adams presented “Why Can’t We All Just Get Along: Qualitative Research and Human Subjects Review (IRB)” at the annual meeting of the Society for the Study of Symbolic Interaction (SSSI), in Montreal, Canada, August 11-14, 2006.

In 2005, Douglas Adams and Kenneth D. Pimple’s first collaborative publication - linking the discipline of Criminology to the topics of Research Ethics and the Responsible Conduct of Research - entitled “Research Misconduct and Crime: Lessons from Criminal Science on Preventing Misconduct and Promoting Integrity” was published in the 2005 issue of Accountability in Research, volume 12 (3).

In 2004, Douglas Adams presented his first conference paper with Kenneth D. Pimple, “The Flaw in the Ointment: What Research on Research Ethics can Learn from Research on Crime” at the Research on Research Integrity conference, sponsored by the Office of Research Integrity (ORI) in San Diego, CA, November 12-14, 2004.